RAPID ACCESS CHEST PAIN CLINIC

Sevenoaks Medical Centre offers a rapid access Chest Pain Clinic for assessment, diagnosis and treatment for recent onset of chest pain and suspected angina.

Same or next-day appointments are available with a Consultant Cardiologist, who will make an initial assessment. Please bring a list of current medications to your initial appointment. You can eat and drink before coming to the clinic.

At the initial assessment, a range of cardiovascular testing will be undertaken to ensure a rapid diagnosis. This includes:

- Blood tests
- ECG
- Echocardiogram.

You may be required to stay at your appointment for up to four hours, so please bring comfortable clothing and food, if required.

The Consultant will discuss the results with you at the appointment, and give advice on an appropriate course of action. If referrals to other specialists are required, this will be arranged at your convenience.

If the decision needs to be made to admit you to hospital, or to arrange further urgent outpatient investigations, then this can be arranged with and carried out at London Bridge Hospital.

It is important to note that this is an urgent care service, and not an emergency service. Patients who are in pain or have had significant pain within the previous 12 hours should be sent directly to hospital.
